The following petition was presented to the convention:

"We, the delegates representing locals 19 of Minneapolis, 24 of Denver, 27 of Salt Lake City, 10 of Kansas City, 30 of Des Moines and 21 of Omaha, request that some action be taken to secure control of the road work being done, by the several roads west of the Mississippl river. There are a number of fair contractors who have agreed to recognize our union and pay the standard wages with regulation hours. We recognize our union and pay the standard wages with regulation hours. We find that such roads as the Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line and others are paying their bridgemen as low as $3 per day for a ten-hour basis. While on their way home last evening on First North street, between First and Second West streets, Horace and William Clayton, two young men residing at 957 West First North street, were confronted by three armed men and at the point of revolvers were compelled to hand over their money and valuables.

The nobery occurred shortly after 11 o'clock at a point in the street lined with large trees. The three men were concealed behind the trees, and when their victims were but a few feet away sprang out and covered them with revolvers. Both of the young men instantly elevated their hands in response to a stern command from one of the noldups, and while two of the robbers legst them covered with guns the third went through their pockets. About $1 in money and a silver watch were taken from the two men, after which the robbers ordered them to move on down the street.

New York, Sept. 28.—The validity of the indigments against ex-Congressman Edmund H. Driggs of Brooklyn and George E. Miller, New York agent of the Brandt-Dent Automatic Cashier company, charging them with participation in the postal frauds, was upheld in a decision handed down today by Judge Thomas in the United States district court in Brooklyn.

the United States district court in Brooklyn.

Driggs was charged with receiving money while a congressman for furthering the interests of the automatic cashier company, and Miller was accused of paying money to corrupt a congressman. A demurrer was interposed in behalt of Mr. Driggs on the ground that the facts set forth in the indictment were insufficient to constitute a crime; that the case as alleged was barred by the statute of limitations, and that the sections under which the indictment was found were unconstitutional.

Judge Thomas holds that the alleged crime was committed while Driggs was a congressman, and that, so far as the statute of limitations was concerned, the alleged payments were all made within three years before the indictment was found.

refused to take part in the parade or to have anything whatever to do with the centennial celebration if the Marine band of Wasaington is to play at the mass meeting at the Auditrium on Thursday night, which is to be the Ifial act of the celebration.

The union declares that its constitution forbids its members to have anything to do with an event in which enlisted men in the government service take part. The union therefore demands that the invitation to the Marine band be withdrawn or the union musicians would decline to furnish music for the parade, for the banquet of the mayor's Wednesday night, or for any other part of the centennial celebration

The committee on arrangements for the centennial informed the union 10.12ph that the invitation to the Marine band would stand, no matter what action was taken by the local musicians. The union in London.

London. Sept. 28.—The renewed realizations, chiefly in the list of lavestment securities, caused a demonstration on the stock markets today, almost amounting to a panic. Consols once touched 87½, being a full point beneath the lowest reached during the Franco-German war. The heavy liquidation is said to be due to the needs of American financiers and speculators.

Apprehension is felt regarding the postition in Wall street and anxiety is entertained concerning the stock exchange, which, in the best informed quarters, however, are said to be exaggerated. The slump in United States Steel stock caused some anxiety as to its probable effect on Andrew Carlacgie's library endowments. It is said, however, Mr. Carnegie views the slump with utmost complacency. An appeal to him today on this subject clicited the following response;

"Mr. Carnegie never owned any second mortgage bonds, or shares of the United States Steel trust. His bonds are first mortgage bonds, covering all the property, and are not quoted upon the stock exchange, West Middleton, Pa., Sept. 28.—Cor-ner Sipe began his investigation into

Government Printing Office Will Be

Investigated.

Washington, Sept. 28.—As a result of recent criticism of the list of charges, made by the government printing office for the printing and book-binding done in that institution for the various departments of the government, Public Printer Palmer today announced the appointment of a committee to investigate these charges. The complaints of the excessive charges made by the government were an outgrowth of the discussion over the case of William A. Miller, assistant foreman of the book-bindery, against whose retention the Book-binders' union is waging a fight. In connection with the complaints against the schedule of charges, the public printer points out that no profit ever has been expected for the kind of work, and that the government merely charges cost prices and then adds, 10 per cent to cover the administrative expense of non-productive labor, such as messengers, doorkeepers, watchmen, etc. Investigated.
